Clean, healthy, vigorous bulbs. This is the familiar large, white, trumpet-shaped Easter Lily. In the mild climates of the South they are planted outdoors late in the summer or early fall. Elsewhere they can be grown indoors in pots—usually one bulb to a six-inch pot—and kept in a cool, dark place until root system has developed and top growth begins to appear; they can then be brought into full light. The white Calla is widely grown in pots for indoor blooms; also as a perennial outdoors in mild climates, and in the North for summer blooms in the garden. The bulbs can be potted as soon as available or stored and planted directly outdoors after frost danger. Callas like rich, moist soil. SHIPPING DATES: AUGUST to DECEMBER.

The mammoth size bulbs which we import, measuring full  $3\frac{1}{4}$ " -  $3\frac{1}{2}$ " in diameter, make several blooms to the stem and usually two stems per bulb. ## Giant Hybrid Mead Strain AMERICAN-GROWN AMARYLLIS

The American-grown Meade Strain of Amaryllis (Hippeastrum) makes gorgeous giant blooms in colors ranging from near white (with pencil striping) through various shades of pink to deepest reds and candy stripes. They are used extensively in the South for outdoor planting and are popular bulbs in the North for indoor growing in pots. For indoor flowering, the bulbs should be potted in a mixture of fibrous loam, leafmold and sand, with liquid manure applied during the blooming period. They may be potted as soon as available, with the shoulder of the bulb protruding from the soil. If kept at a fairly even temperature of 65° F. they will develop a good vigorous root system. When the weather warms and after blooming, the potted plant can be placed in the soil outdoors and taken in again in the fall for flowering indoors. In mild climates bulbs may be kept outdoors in the ground from season to season; elsewhere they must be lifted and stored in dry sand through the winter months.

LYCORIS, Magic Lily of Orient

Lycoris is considered one of the rarest and most beautiful of bulbous flowers. SQUAMIGERA, also called the Mystery Lily, has fragrant blossoms of lavender rose. L. AUREA, Golden Spider Lily or Hurricane Lily, produces bright, orange-yellow blossoms and is best adapted for outdoor growing in the lower South. L. RADIATA, Red Spider Lily or Guernsey Lily, well known in the Gulf Coast region, is often treated as a pot plant. It produces small bright red blossoms in clusters.
